MORE than 3,000 people have been arrested in connection with the disorder that rocked the borough and other parts of London in August.

Of that number, some 1,931 have either been charged or cautioned for their offences.

It comes as a result of the Metropolitan Police's Operation Withern, which is investigating all of the crimes carried out during the riots and disorder.

The operation has resulted in 1,809 cases being brought before the courts, with 618 of those being sentenced and 255 being jailed.

The cases of 1,058 people charged during the disorder are still ongoing.

Commander Steve Rodhouse, who is in charge of the investigation, said: "This is an important milestone for the investigation but our work is far from over.

"We continue to arrest and charge people every day, which is testament to the hard work of the officers involved in this investigation.

"It is also important that the public see we are not only arresting people but that these arrests are ending up with people being convicted for their crimes.

"My message to those who were involved in the disorder and criminality is that you will not get away with it. We have a huge team of dedicated officers working on this investigation and we will find you.

"We are determined to continue bringing those who committed these outrageous acts of criminality to justice. There will be more arrests and convictions."

Of all the charges, the majority (838) were for burglary, followed by 326 for violent offences such as affray and 262 for handling or receiving stolen goods.

Other charges include arson, assault, criminal damage, robbery and possession of weapons, among others.

Parents pay tribute to their son

THE family of an aspiring young footballer who died in a car accident have paid tribute to him.

Theo Mensah, from Tottenham, was killed in a crash on the A1(M) near Welwyn on Friday October 28.

The 18-year-old went to St Paul's Roman Catholic Primary School in Tottenham, followed by St Thomas Moore Roman Catholic Secondary School.

He was studying A-levels in maths, English and a BTEC in sports, hoping to go to university next year.

He excelled at sports, particularly football, athletics and basketball. Theo previously played football for Grays Athletic and had trials with Wycombe Wanderers. He latterly played for both his own school's football team and semi-professionally with Haringey Waltham Development.

The Arsenal fan, who had a nine-year-old sister, Deborah, was also passionate about working with children and young people in football, helping them stay out of crime and gang culture. He helped with coaching projects through Haringey's Young People Empowered, which is an initiative set up to beat knife and violent crime in the area.

His father Nana and mother Veronica said: "Theo was our only son and we were always so proud of him. He was a very loving, caring young man, who was always there for people – whether they were family or friends. He was also a very talented and promising footballer, who wanted to use that skill for good in our community.

"He was like a precious stone – he worked so hard at school and was very intelligent, a credit to us. He was also jovial, liked making jokes and was a bit of a rascal in his own way.

"He will be greatly missed by everyone who knows him – friends and family members. Many have already taken the time to visit us and pay their respects. We would like to thank everyone for their support during this time."

Have your say as meetings discuss council cutbacks

COUNCIL finance chiefs are staging a series of public meetings over the coming weeks to give people the chance to have their say on the borough's budget.

Seven meetings are set to take place during November and December as Haringey Council bids to find savings of £84million over three years.

The council has reduced services to make savings of £41million during the 2010/11 financial year – and has identified proposals for all but £7million of the total needed by 2014.

Views discussed at the meetings – along with responses to a budget consultation questionnaire – will help the council decide how best to make the necessary reductions in services.

The meetings are taking place on:
□ Wednesday November 23, 7pm-9pm, at the Professional Development Centre, in Downhills Park Road, N17.

□ Thursday November 24, 7pm-

9pm, at Highgate Primary School, in Storey Road, N6.

□ Friday November 25, 3.30pm-5.30pm, at the Northumberland Park Resource Centre, 177 Park Lane, N17.

□ Monday November 28, 7pm-9pm, at Stroud Green Primary School, in Woodstock Road, N4.

□ Tuesday November 29, 7pm-9pm, at Tottenham Green Leisure Centre, in Philip Lane, N15.

□ Monday December 5, 7pm-9pm, at St Mary's CE Primary School, in Rectory Gardens, N8.

□ Tuesday December 6, 7.30-

9.30pm, at Fortismere School, in Tetherdown, N10.

Joe Goldberg, cabinet member for finance, said: "Last year's spending review saw local government budgets hit harder than any other sector of government.

"We remain committed to protecting frontline services by making more cuts from back office functions such as IT, finance and communications.

"But it's simply not possible to maintain the same breadth and depth of services on such reduced funding.

"Where frontline services are being hit, we want to be sure we are not hurting the most vulnerable in our communities and that there are viable alternatives for people," added Mr Goldberg

"We want to know what residents think about the budget. We'll take views on board as we make vital decisions about future services and I hope that many residents will take the time to share their ideas."

Responses to the consultation will be fed into reports to the cabinet and full council budget meetings in February next year.

Questionnaires are available online at www.haringey.gov.uk, by emailing haveyoursay@haringey.gov.uk, at libraries or by writing to: Budget Consultation, Communication and Consultation Service, Haringey Council, 8th Floor, River Park House, London, N22 8HQ.

Shops hope to benefit from free car parks

SHOPPERS travelling to Tottenham are being allowed to park in council-owned car parks for free until the end of January in a bid to boost trade.

The free parking – aimed at encouraging shoppers to support Tottenham businesses over the Christmas and New Year period – is already under way and is operating each day at the council's Stoneleigh Road and West Green Road car parks.

Charges will apply before 9am to avoid commuters taking spaces from shoppers and on Spurs match days.

Nilgun Canver, Haringey Council's cabinet member for the environment, said: "Traders have asked for this to help encourage visitors back to the area to shop, or have a meal, and this is something we can do to help over the coming months."

The parking initiative is part of a package of support the council has put together to help riot-hit areas, including payments of more than £180,000 in grants to firms which suffered direct damage and the launch with Spurs of the "I Love Tottenham" campaign aimed at encouraging shoppers to the High Road.

Alan Strickland, cabinet member for economic development, said: "Reaching out to our most affected businesses has been top of our list of priorities since this summer's riots.

"Over the coming weeks and months we will build on the work already done as we aim to transform Tottenham into a better, brighter and more successful place."

MP impressed by 'lifesaving' speech and language service

Whittington's survival rate up with best

Fingers on the pulse: MP Lynne Featherstone at Blanche Nevile School with Leon Walker-Dobson, 13, and Katharina Maina, 12

MP LYNNE Featherstone took part in a visit to find out how Haringey's Speech and Language Therapy service is transforming lives for residents with communication problems.

The Hornsey and Wood Green MP dropped in at Blanche Nevile School, in Muswell Hill, where the service is used on a regular basis.

Her visit was part of an awareness campaign by the Royal College of Speech and Language therapists called "Giving Voice".

The service works with people across Haringey of all ages, from babies and children, through to adults and the elderly.

Adults with learning disabilities also make use of the service, which helps with overcoming difficulties with functions including eating, drinking and swallowing as well as developing interaction skills, communication, language and speech.

Mrs Featherstone, who is a junior government minister at the Home Office, said: "The visit to Blanche Nevile has been a real eye-opener. Speech and language therapists are real heroes and can truly be lifesavers.

The progress made with many of the school's students is impressive.

"There are so many reasons why it's essential that children get early support with communication problems, not least to help them interact with the world around them, but also because of the link between poor communication skills and both mental health problems and youth offending.

"Early intervention is necessary for prevention and I was very impressed to hear of the service provided for residents here in Haringey."

WHITTINGTON Hospital has been ranked as the best in England in the first official mortality ratings.

Health officials calculate the ratings by comparing the actual number of deaths at each hospital with the number expected, based on the SHMI (summary hospital-level mortality indicator).

The Whittington was ranked highest out of all non-specialist acute trusts, with two other NHS North Central London trusts also in the top five. University College London Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust came in third and the Royal Free Hampstead NHS Trust was fifth.

Fourteen trusts were given the highest banding score of three.

Alison Pointu, NHS North Central London's director of quality and safety, said: "All of our hospitals strive for the highest standards in patient treatment, and for three of our hospitals to achieve such a positive result in national rankings is outstanding.

"Patients receiving treatment for serious and potentially life-threatening conditions can feel reassured they are in the best hands.

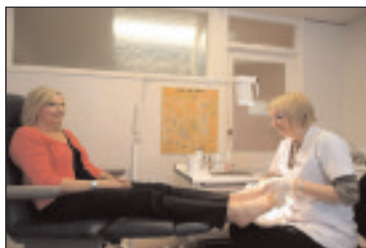

"Despite continual pressures on budgets we strive to drive down mortality rates and give patients the best chance of surviving important and complex operations. We aim to improve standards in all services with the intention of being the best across the board."

SHMI was agreed as a measure by a Department of Health review in November 2010.

The SHMI figures and details on how they are calculated are published quarterly on the NHS Information Centre's website at www.ic.nhs.uk

Man jailed for an unprovoked attack with axe

A MAN who plunged an axe into his victim's head in an entirely unprovoked attack has been detained indefinitely.

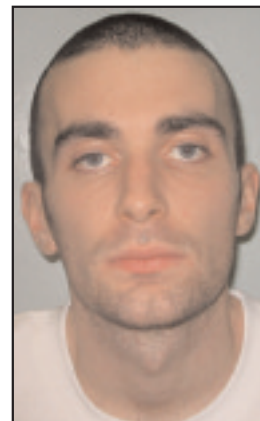

Thomas O'Connell, 26, of Green Lanes, Finsbury Park, received an indefinite hospital order last Friday, having previously pleaded guilty at the Old Bailey to attempted murder.

Police were called to Finsbury Park, close to the Manor House entrance in Haringey, late on Tuesday December 28 last year.

The 26-year-old victim, Marcin Dzioba, suffered multiple serious head injuries. He had been sitting on a bench when he was attacked from behind, giving him no chance to defend himself.

He was struck several times with the heavy axe, which it was later discovered O'Connell had bought from a DIY store near his home just before the incident.

Mr Dzioba remained at the Royal London Hospital in Whitechapel for several weeks

Guilty plea: Thomas O'Connell was holding the axe when he approached police in Finsbury Park and although he has made good progress, he needs 24-hour care.

He has difficulty in walking and has lost the use of his right arm. He also suffers from severe memory loss and cannot remember the incident at all.

O'Connell was arrested after approaching police officers at a cordon holding the axe.

Subsequent forensic tests revealed it to be the weapon used in the attack. He told officers he had gone into the park because he had been unable to sleep, had been chased by a man and had found the axe.

Searches of his home revealed clothing with the victim's blood on.

Investigating officer Detective Inspector Keely Smith, from the Homicide and Serious Crime Command, said: "Initially, it was thought Mr Dzioba's injuries were so severe he would die but he has recovered remarkably well considering what he has been through.

"But the fact remains his life will never be the same again and our thoughts are with him and his family."

"The Switchover Help Scheme made my switch to digital TV easy"

You may be entitled to help, just like Jean if you're 75 and over or eligible disabled.

"I love watching telly. Feet up with a cuppa, watching Bargain Hunt. Paradise.

But something came between me and my telly. They call it 'the digital TV switchover'. It's when the analogue signal is turned off and you start to lose your TV channels, unless you're ready. It comes to this area soon and will affect every TV in your home that isn't ready for switchover. No point sticking your head in the sand hoping it will go away. It needs sorting.

Help is at hand

As it turned out, there was no need for me to fret. I discovered that everyone 75 and over or eligible disabled was entitled to help switching one of their TVs to digital. I didn't even have to ask. An information pack from the Switchover Help Scheme just turned up one morning in the post. It's run by the BBC. For £40 they will arrange for an approved installer to supply and install everything. If you're eligible and also on certain income-related benefits you don't pay a penny. There are also other digital options to choose from, but they may cost a bit more.

Alan came and set everything up for me. He even took time to show me how to use it. He explained that there were no hidden costs either. In fact the only surprise I got was when Alan showed me all the extra TV channels I could watch for free. When he finished at mine, he went next door to Peggy's. Although she already had digital on her

Alan the installer

Well, they didn't have to tell me twice. I rang up the freephone number and got the help I was entitled to. The lady at the Help Scheme arranged for someone to come round and a very nice fella called living room telly, she was still entitled to help switching one TV, so he sorted out the TV in her bedroom which she watches a lot.

The help continues

The help doesn't stop there. There is an aftercare service which is very reassuring while you're getting used to things. You can call up if you have any problems. So if you need a little extra help, it's there."

What should you do now?

Everyone who is entitled to help will receive an information pack from the Help Scheme. But if you'd like to apply now, you can call free on 0800 40 85 900 or visit helpscheme.co.uk

Ally Pally marks 75 years of telly

World first: Public service broadcasting started from Alexandra Palace in November 1936

SCHOOLCHILDREN helped celebrate 75 years of television at Alexandra Palace with the BBC.

Ally Pally, the iconic north London entertainment venue was the birthplace of the world's first regular high-definition public TV broadcast.

Youngsters from the nearby Rhodes Avenue Primary School visited the BBC studios at the palace, along with Lynne Featherstone, the MP for Hornsey and Wood Green.

They teamed up with members of the public to take part in activities designed to encourage people to explore the past and discover the future of television.

They also had the rare opportunity of touring the studios where history was made on November 2 1936 when worldwide communication and entertainment was transformed beyond recognition.

Matt Cooke, chairman of Alexandra Park & Palace Trust, said: "The BBC's place in the history of Alexandra Palace was sealed when the first public service broadcast in the world was made from the building in 1936.

"Not only did the event pave the way for a new kind of social entertainment, but it also prompted technological advances in the way we communicate which still impact on us today."

When the BBC leased the Alexandra Palace studios from 1935 to 1981, it was afforded incredible reception capabilities and broadcasting opportunities.

The building, which stands at more than 300 feet above sea level, provides outstanding views across the city and - crucially - guaranteed BBC production staff at the time close proximity to Broadcasting House - the corporation's headquarters in central London.

The studios withstood World War II - during which TV equipment was commandeered for defence purposes and the Alexandra Palace transmitter was re-tuned to defend London from Nazi bombers - to become the corporation's primary production centre for television broadcasts until the 1950s.

Landmark programmes including Muffin The Mule and The Grove Family - the nation's first TV soap opera - and historic events including the 1953 Coronation, news bulletins and Open University programmes were produced there.

BOSS HOPES TO BE BACK SOON

By Dominique Stafford

TOTTENHAM Hotspur manager Harry Redknapp hopes that he will be able to make a quick return to action after successfully coming through heart surgery.

Redknapp was admitted to hospital for tests last week, and underwent surgery on Wednesday to unblock coronary arteries.

Although he was released from hospital before the weekend, he missed Spurs' 3-1 Premier League victory at Fulham as he continues his recovery.

Doctors have advised Redknapp to stay away from football for a month, but the manager is hoping to be back on the touchline before then.

"I have got to listen to what the doctors tell me and not get too stressed out," he said. "Stress is what causes most of the problems."

"I will be fine, I have just got to take my time and, when I am ready, to come back and get on with it, but not before I get the go-ahead from the people in charge."

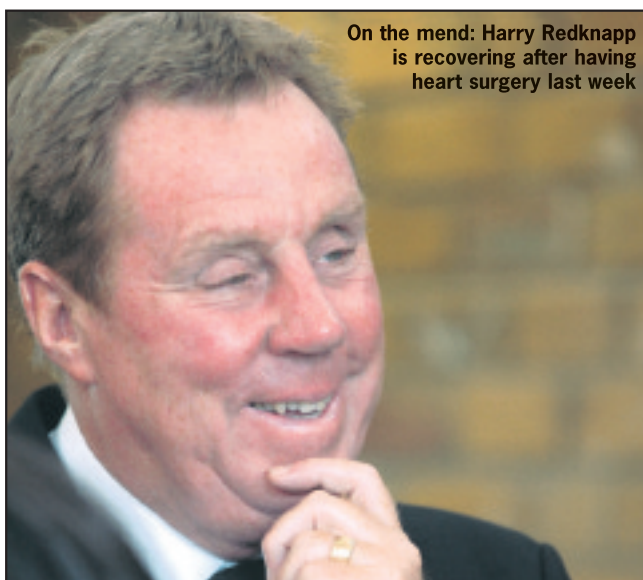

"They have said I shouldn't even think about football for four to five weeks and get myself stressed. I will see how I go, but I hope to be back before then."

"I would like to thank everyone for their good wishes. There are so many lovely people out there, and I really appreciate it."

Tottenham can count themselves rather fortunate to have picked up all three points from Craven Cottage on Sunday after Fulham laid siege on their goal for much of the second half.

Strikes from Gareth Bale and Aaron Lennon put Spurs in control prior to the interval, before a Younes Kaboul own goal gave Fulham renewed hope.

The visitors then came under sustained pressure – and were extremely lucky not to concede a penalty late on when Kyle Walker handled in the box – but keeper Brad Friedel came to their rescue with a string of fine saves and Tottenham's victory was secured when Jermain Defoe added a third with a deflected shot deep in stoppage time.

On the mend: Harry Redknapp is recovering after having heart surgery last week

Late goals help Borough return to winning ways

HARINGEY Borough scored twice in injury time to snatch a 3-1 win at home to Stotfold in the Spartan Premier Division on Saturday and bring an end to their three-match losing streak.

Borough's recent poor run had been characterised by sloppy individual errors, and this curse struck again after just four minutes when Nick Nicou took far too long over a routine clearance and Stotfold striker Nathan Aulsberry robbed him of the ball before scoring from a tight angle.

The visitors could easily have extended their advantage prior to the interval as Borough struggled to get their game together, but the hosts were a different side in the second half and Darrell Cox grabbed an equaliser within three minutes of the restart.

Stotfold still looked dangerous in attack and home keeper Ryohei Tamai was forced to make one superb double save, but the introduction of Dean Mason turned the game in Borough's favour as he began to cause the visiting defence problems down the right wing.

But it was not until stoppage time that Borough finally managed to make the decisive breakthrough when Mason forced his way past several challenges and fed Charles Douse, who smashed home from ten yards out.

Stotfold stormed forward in search of an equaliser, but they were undone on the break two minutes later as Mason latched on to Richard Worrell's fine pass to seal Borough's victory.

The original cash loan

Since its origins in the 13th century to today, a pawnbroking loan has provided a simple, fast and effective way of raising instant cash. With no credit checks and a convenient 6 month term, it's no wonder that many disillusioned by the banking world are turning to the loan choice of past generations!

Cash & Cheque Express are proud members of the National Pawnbrokers Association.
